And when I die, I want to make sure it lives on. I chose the curvy schoolteacher to be the mother of my child. And I'm gonna break her down until that pretty mouth says, "Yes." BOOSTER Every man eventually faces death. And when that time comes, I refuse to leave anything to chance. I'm determined to leave behind a legacy that will outlast me. A legacy of flesh and blood. Of grit and power. A son to carry on my name. All I need is the right woman to bear my child. And in Lena, that's exactly what I've found. She can try to refuse if she wants. She can try to run or hide. But deep down, she knows this is right. This is meant to be. Because when my lips meet hers, her body cries out for more. And I'm the perfect man to give it to her just how she wants it: Raw and savage and sweaty and rough. A night with the biker is one she'll never forget. But taking this final step means leaving behind everything I've built. And when the sins of my past come roaring back to drag me back, I have to decide: Can I sacrifice my past for a chance at our future? LENA I never had much. Growing up in a foster home meant sharing everything with my siblings. It's always been hard for me to stand up for what I want. Booster, on the other hand, demands my submission from the second I meet him. He thinks he can use me for his own twisted pleasure. I'm not the biker's toy. I refuse to be his plaything. But little by little, he breaks me down. I find myself falling for the one man I swore to stay away from. There's something about his aura of confidence that draws me in no matter how hard I struggle. My mind is screaming for me to run... But my heart and my body are begging him to hold me down. A baby with this beast means putting my trust in a violent outlaw. And just when I think I can finally let my guard down, I discover his hidden betrayal. Is it possible to forgive the man who shattered my heart? Especially with his child in my womb?

Motobécane-MBK - Didier Ganneau 2002

De la Mobylette au Booster, cela fait plus d'un demi-siècle qu'une même usine a mis la France de l'après-guerre, puis la France des minots " ziva " sur deux roues. Une entreprise sous deux noms différents, puisque Motobécane est passée du statut de structure familiale à celui de filiale d'un grand constructeur japonais, sous le nom de MBK. Motobécane a vécu cette mutation dans la douleur. Dassault, Peugeot et Renault ne lui ont pas fait de cadeaux. Mais elle a aussi traversé ces cinquante ans portée par une véritable euphorie technique. Les ventes de la Mobylette ont généré des moyens colossaux que Motobécane a longtemps réinvestis dans la recherche. Cet ouvrage dévoile les étonnants prototypes qui sont le résultat d'une telle politique. L'histoire de cette usine est aussi une histoire d'hommes, car Motobécane a toujours brillé en compétition. La marque française détient en effet le plus beau palmarès en termes de Grands Prix.

Von Kuh-Look bis Fit for fun: Anglizismen in der heutigen deutschen Allgemein- und Werbesprache - Hermann Fink 1997

Seit dem Zweiten Weltkrieg hat Amerika einen immensen Einfluss auf die deutsche Sprache und Kultur genommen, der in einer Reihe von Erhebungen quantitativ an Einzelbeispielen untersucht worden ist. Der Band analysiert breitgefächert das tausendfache Anglizismenaufkommen in der illustrierten Zeitschrift, der überregionalen Presse, der Boulevard-Zeitung, der Jugend-Presse und den Werbeschriften. Besonderes Augenmerk gilt dabei auch der sprachlichen Kreativität der entlehnten englischen Wörter am Beispiel des Modeanglizismus "Look" sowie der in der deutschen Werbung verwendeten Angloamerikanismen vielfältigster Prägung und kommentiert deren Sinn und Unsinn."

Heavy-Duty Wheeled Vehicles - Boris

Nikolaevich Belousov 2014-01-27

Heavy-duty wheeled vehicles (HDWVs) are all-wheel-drive vehicles that carry 25 tons or more and have three or more axles. They transport heavy, bulky cargo such as raw minerals, timber, construction materials, pre-fabricated modules, weapons, combat vehicles, and more. HDWVs are used in a variety of industries (mining, logging, construction, energy) and are critical to a country's economy and defense. These vehicles have unique development requirements due to their high loads, huge dimensions, and specific operating conditions. Hauling efficiencies can be improved by increasing vehicle load capacity; however capacities are influenced by legislation, road limits, and design. Designing HDWVs differs from other multi-purpose all-wheel-drive vehicles. The chassis must be custom-designed to suit the customer's particular purpose. The number of axles is another variable, as well as which ones are driving and which are driven. Tires are also customizable. Translated by SAE from Russian, this book narrates the history of HDWVs and presents the theory and calculations required to design them. It summarizes results of the authors' academic research and experience and presents innovative technical solutions used for electric and hydrostatic transmissions, steering systems, and active safety of these vehicles. The book consists of three parts. Part one covers HDWV design history and general design methods, including basic vehicle design, and evaluating HDWV use conditions. Part one also covers general operation requirements and consumer needs, and a brief analysis of structural components of existing HDWVs and prototypes. Part two outlines information needs for designing HDWVs. Part three reviews basic theory and calculation of innovative technical solutions, as well as special requirements for component parts. This comprehensive title provides the following information about HDWVs: • History of design and manufacture. • Manufacturers' summary design data. • Background data on sample vehicles. • Component calculation examples. • Overview of motion theory, which is useful in design and placement of bulky cargo.

Femmes hors-la-loi - Maria Poblete 2016-02-03
Autrefois, elles portaient des talons hauts et des bas noirs quand leurs hommes sortaient en costume-cravate. Aujourd'hui, leurs héritières sont plus souvent chaussées de baskets. Celles qui gravitaient au siècle dernier autour des malfrats parisiens, lyonnais, marseillais ou corses étaient serveuses, barmaids ou croupières dans les cercles de jeux, tenaient la comptabilité occulte ou bien géraient en mères maquerelles les maisons de passe. Aujourd'hui, les femmes hors-la-loi ont grandi dans les cités et se sont pour la plupart investies dans le trafic de drogue, l'activité criminelle la plus lucrative du moment, elles sont dealeuses, passeuses, blanchisseuses ou nourrices, sans pour autant laisser tomber les vieilles recettes, à commencer par tout ce qui se rapporte au commerce du sexe. Sans oublier celles qui sont tombées dans la criminalité par amour, celui d'un homme, d'un frère, d'un clan... Pour donner corps à ce Parrains & caïds au féminin, Frédéric Ploquin et Maria Poblete ont rencontré ces femmes, ont tissé des liens avec elles et les ont convaincues de témoigner, de raconter leur vie. Ils ont également souhaité et obtenu l'autorisation de séjourner pendant une semaine dans la seule prison française exclusivement réservée au sexe dit « faible », expression dont on mesurera au fil de ces pages la désuétude... Ces femmes hors-la-loi vous surprendront par leur détermination, leur langage et leur force de frappe. Frédéric Ploquin est l'auteur aux Editions Fayard de la série Parrains & caïds consacrée au banditisme. Il est spécialiste des affaires de police et de justice à Marianne. Maria Poblete est journaliste et écrivain.

International Linear Collider Technical Review Committee Second Report 2003 - International Linear Collider Technical Review Committee 2003

As this report is being published, the international high energy physics (HEP) community finds itself confronting a set of fascinating discoveries and new questions regarding the nature of matter and its fundamental particles and forces. The observation of neutrino oscillations that indicates that neutrinos have mass, measurements of the accelerating expansion of the universe that may be due to dark energy, and evidence for a period of rapid inflation at the beginning of the Big Bang are stimulating the entire field. Looming on the horizon are the potential discoveries of a Higgs particle that may reveal the origin of mass and of a whole family of supersymmetric particles that may be part of the cosmic dark matter. For the HEP community to elucidate these mysteries, new accelerators are indispensable. At this time, after careful deliberations, all three regional organizations of the HEP community (ACFA in Asia, HEPAP in North America, and ECFA in Europe) have reached the common conclusion that the next accelerator should be an electron-positron linear collider with an initial center-of-mass energy of 500 Giga-electronvolts (GeV), later upgradable to higher energies, and that it should be built and operated in parallel with the Large Hadron Collider under construction at CERN. Hence, this second report of the International Linear Collider Technical Review Committee (ILC-TRC) comes at a very timely moment. The report was requested by the International Committee on Future Accelerators (ICFA) in February 2001 to assess the current technical status of electron-positron linear collider designs in the various regions. Note that the ILC-TRC was not asked to concern itself with either cost studies or the ultimate selection process of a machine. This Executive Summary gives a short outline of the genesis of the report, the charge given to the committee, and its organization. It then presents a brief description of four electron-positron linear collider designs at hand. The methodology used to assess these designs is described in some detail. The assessments are followed by a list of R & D tasks recommended by the committee for the next few years. The tasks are ranked according to certain specific criteria. The summary concludes with a few remarks outlining upcoming developments that may guide ICFA and the HEP community in their future plans to promote and execute an international project. The Executive Summary stands alone in the sense that it allows a busy reader, who may not have the time to read the entire report, to become familiar with its essential contents.

Trasmissione Inversa (Cthulhu Apocalypse Vol.

5) - Fabrizio Valenza 2016-06-28
Autunno 2015. Un villaggio immerso nella nebbia vicino a Verona. Un uomo torna dal lavoro e siede a tavola con la moglie e il figlio di tredici anni, che ama più di ogni altra cosa al mondo. Si risveglia sulla poltrona all'una e un quarto di notte. Gli altri già dormono. Non capisce cosa stia vedendo sullo schermo della TV ancora accesa, si rende appena conto che è qualcosa che lo terrorizza quando si alza, va in cucina, cerca nei cassetti, prende un coltellaccio, ma lo lascia cadere per terra. Meglio l'accetta. Esce, va nella legnaia e sale a compiere il suo dovere. Con questo omicidio apparentemente incomprensibile inizia l'incubo di Verona, l'ondata rossa di follia, come viene subito ribattezzata dai media. Un poliziotto e un giornalista fanno del loro meglio per capire cosa stia accadendo, nella speranza di riuscire a bloccare le stragi familiari che si susseguono a ritmo serrato. Mai avrebbero immaginato che i loro incubi adolescenziali, fatti di romanzi horror

e sette magiche, potessero divenire quotidianità. Cthulhu è dietro l'angolo. Aspetta soltanto che qualcuno pronunci le parole giuste.

Medici e narrazioni - Gabriele Gasparini

2021-09-30T00:00:00+02:00

In Oriente imperversa una nuova epidemia, la terza di questo secolo. Le notizie giungono frammentate ai cittadini di un mondo globale e tecnologico. Una minaccia atavica vissuta come distante da un'umanità per cui le parole contano sempre meno. Ma, improvvisamente, l'epidemia è fra noi. Nelle case e nelle strade, ora deserte, la nostra vita è di colpo sostituita da diffidenza, paura, solitudine, dolore e morte. La natura riprende i suoi spazi ed emerge, chiara, la nostra fragilità. Dieci parole fanno da guida a un gruppo di medici immersi nella pandemia e soli. Piccoli semi che, in un crescendo di idee, possono indicarci la via per rompere la solitudine e vivere un domani. Dieci parole che vivono nelle esperienze al limite di chi, negli ospedali e nel territorio, cerca di salvare e di chi, solo e disperato, cerca di non morire. Narrazioni di un periodo unico che ci ha segnato e che avrà avuto un senso solo se, alla fine, avremo imparato qualcosa su di noi e sul nostro pianeta. Paris Match - 1999-02
